BOOM FOR FORD IS CAUSE FOR WORRY TO TWO PARTIES

Both Democrats and Republican Potential Candidates See Real Rivalry—Henry Ford Looms Up Big Like Banquo's Ghost Will Not Down.

FARMERS ARE READY TO BACK FRIEND IN RACE.

Will Support Muscle Shoal Champion. Senator Pat Harrison, Touring West, Finds the Industrial Leader Has Great Following.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—There is general admission in Washington that Henry Ford makes unpleasant the dreams of all those who are ambitious to serve as president of the United States following the term of Warren G. Harding.

This anguish is not confined to Democrats. Republicans have reasons to fear Ford. In the first place, it is known that he may enter the presidential primaries of both parties just as he tried for both the Democratic and Republican nomination for senator from Michigan, with the result that he would demonstrate strength and might predominate in independent party organization. In the second place, Republicans fear that Ford might acquire the Democratic nomination and make certain the loss to Republicans of the radical north-west.

Ford More Interested. There are indications, further, that Ford is more concerned with presidential prospects than he formerly was. In the beginning it is pointed out, he dismissed the suggestion with a wave of his hand. He declared that his work was important as that of the president. At the same time, Mrs. Ford declared that irrespective of what her husband did, she would never enter the White House. Now, however, Ford declares that Wall Street and the plutocrats in general would never permit him to be president. This statement is regarded as calculated to inspire his friends with even keener ardor to carry out their determination to make him president despite Wall Street.

Some days ago, Senator Pat Harrison, after a tour of the West—on which tour he met Ford and lunched with him—returned to Washington with the statement that Ford was unusually strong. He added that it could easily be imagined that the Southern States, in the convention, would go to Ford if he be demonstrated that the Southern States could not bring about the nomination of a man with whose political fundamentals they were more in accord. As a reason, Senator Harrison attributed the fact that Southern farmers were wedded to Ford because of his promise, the government being willing to utilize Muscle Shoals in the manufacture of cheap fertilizer.

Harrison Impressed. Senator Harrison, furthermore, appeared to have been impressed with an impression of Ford's governmental ability. It was not at all moved by the suggestion that a mechanical genius might not make a first rate president.

William C. McAdoo, regarded as a candidate for the Democratic nomination, is said to have referred to the Ford prospect as a possible source of danger to his own opportunity, while recently visiting Washington. It is said that McAdoo laid claim to western democracy provided Ford did not enter the race and disturb the situation in certain northern and northwestern states.

It is regarded as very probably true that had the government an opportunity to do it over again, Ford would be awarded Muscle Shoals. While the fight was raging in congress, and President Harding, Secretary Weeks and Secretary Mellon fighting the Ford offer from every angle, some Republican political sagacity declared that the Republican administration and congress were about to make Ford president of the United States. The non-acceptance of the Ford offer unquestionably boosted the presidential stock of Mr. Ford. The farmers were aroused to vengeance.

At the same time, a presidential candidacy on the part of Ford would probably cause him to withdraw his offer, which, in the event of his defeat, he could submit again. Politicians here declare that a presidential candidate could not seek to enter into a government contract of such magnitude without deliberately affecting his chances, and that a president could not possess such a contract at all.

At any rate, the Ford boom is the latest subject of political gossip in Washington today.

SAINT STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES.

Spring Hill Drops First; Score 10 to 8.

St. Stanislaus drew first blood in the Spring Hill series yesterday, winning 10-8. Free hitting featured the game for both teams. Spring Hill scored two in the first inning when a dropped fly ball was followed by three singles. In the half of the second, the Rock-A-Chaws took advantage of Fox's wildness and scored three. Each team scored one run in the fourth and fifth, bringing the count to five-five. In the sixth inning a walk and six hits, two of them doubles, put five runs across for St. Stanislaus and iced the game. The Hillians added another run in the eighth and started what looked like a dangerous rally in the ninth. Danton and Sullivan singled and both scored when Toups, batting for Bill, lead, laced a liner through second. Toups was caught on base and the next two men were easy outs.

Winling, left gardener for the Mobile outfit, grabbed the stellar honors in the field with seven putouts, some of them very difficult chances. For the winners, Bonura, at first base, furnished the fans with thrill after thrill. In the hitting department, Browne, of the Hillians, connected for two triples and two singles and scored half of his teams' runs when Danton collected four out of five. Bonura-leads his team mates with two doubles and a triple.

to a 7-6 decision. The hits were equal, each team passing 11, but the Hillians were outgeneraled and the Rock-A-Chaws ran wild on the bases, stealing almost at will, especially in the late innings.

St. Stanislaus scored in the first when Loewer was safe on Browne's muff of a pop fly and then scored on Martin's double over second. A single by Loewer and a double by Walter for the Hill in the second. Martin, Rock-A-Chaw captain, walked in the third and scored on Bonura's triple to right center. Spring Hill took the lead in the fourth when Winling doubled, Danton tripled and both scored on Toups' single. With the count 3-2 the game rocked on to the eighth. In that frame a hit, a walk and an error gave the visitors two more runs. In their half of the eighth the collegians brought two runs in without a hit. Bonura was hit by the pitcher and Cleveland walked; a double steal advanced them to second and third. In that frame Dorn led the ball roll away with Bonura stealing home.

In the ninth, Baron doubled and romped in with the tying run on Martin's clean single.

With two down in the tenth Browne was safe at first on Loewer's overcast ball, scoring on Winling's sliding double to left center. When the Rock-A-Chaws came to bat Browne evened up by letting Cleveland's high fly roll away from him while Cleveland pulled up on second, then Lanasa singled over first, stole second and then crossed the plate with the winning run on Ge's neatly placed bunt.

CLOSING EXERCISES MARKS CLOSING OF CENTRAL SCHOOL

Successful Session Came to End Yesterday Morning—Graduates From Grammar Grade Receive Diplomas Twelve in Number.

PRESENTATION BY SUPT. OF ED. T. E. KELLAR.

Miss Norma Gex Makes Remarkable Record—100 in Each of Three Examinations—High Marks in Other Studies—Pupil Contributes Poem.

After a week of examination everyone feels relieved that school is over. Miss Celine Fayard's pupils entertained at chapel Thursday morning by a dance from Anita Capdepon and song by Anna May Perre and Alice Weinberg.

Mrs. Sylvester announced that her pupils were to entertain the last day of school. So the morning exercises opened by singing "America," and then the school song followed, which was sung with much enthusiasm, more so than ever, for the pupils knew they would not sing it together again for three months.

At the Mercantile Company, 1015 Main St., Bay St. Louis, La.

A great demonstration sale of the famous Neponset floor covering, rugs, etc., is now going on at the Mercantile Company.

This exhibition and demonstration at the Mercantile Co. store of this famous floor covering will be a multi-colored display with exhibits and demonstrations at the leading furniture stores in the larger cities in the South and the same price for the goods will prevail in each city, thus local housewives are given the opportunity to see these rugs and floor coverings at the same price as will be offered by the Mercantile Co. store of New Orleans, who will also conduct a demonstration the same week, and thus save freight charges in having goods delivered.

Large numbers of this event, describing goods, have been scattered far and wide through the Echo and in another column of the Echo will be found an advertisement of same. Mrs. John Osoinach promises a genuine treat to housewives at this demonstration and sale. During the week several rugs made of this material have been placed on the sidewalks in front of the Mercantile Bank and the Postoffice building in order that they can be seen and the public can walk on them and inspect same. This is done to demonstrate that the claim that they are water-proof and durable, as guaranteed by the manufacturers.

An attractive display of the goods has been on exhibition this week at

CLOSING EXERCISES S. S. C. DAY SCHOOL FRIDAY MORNING

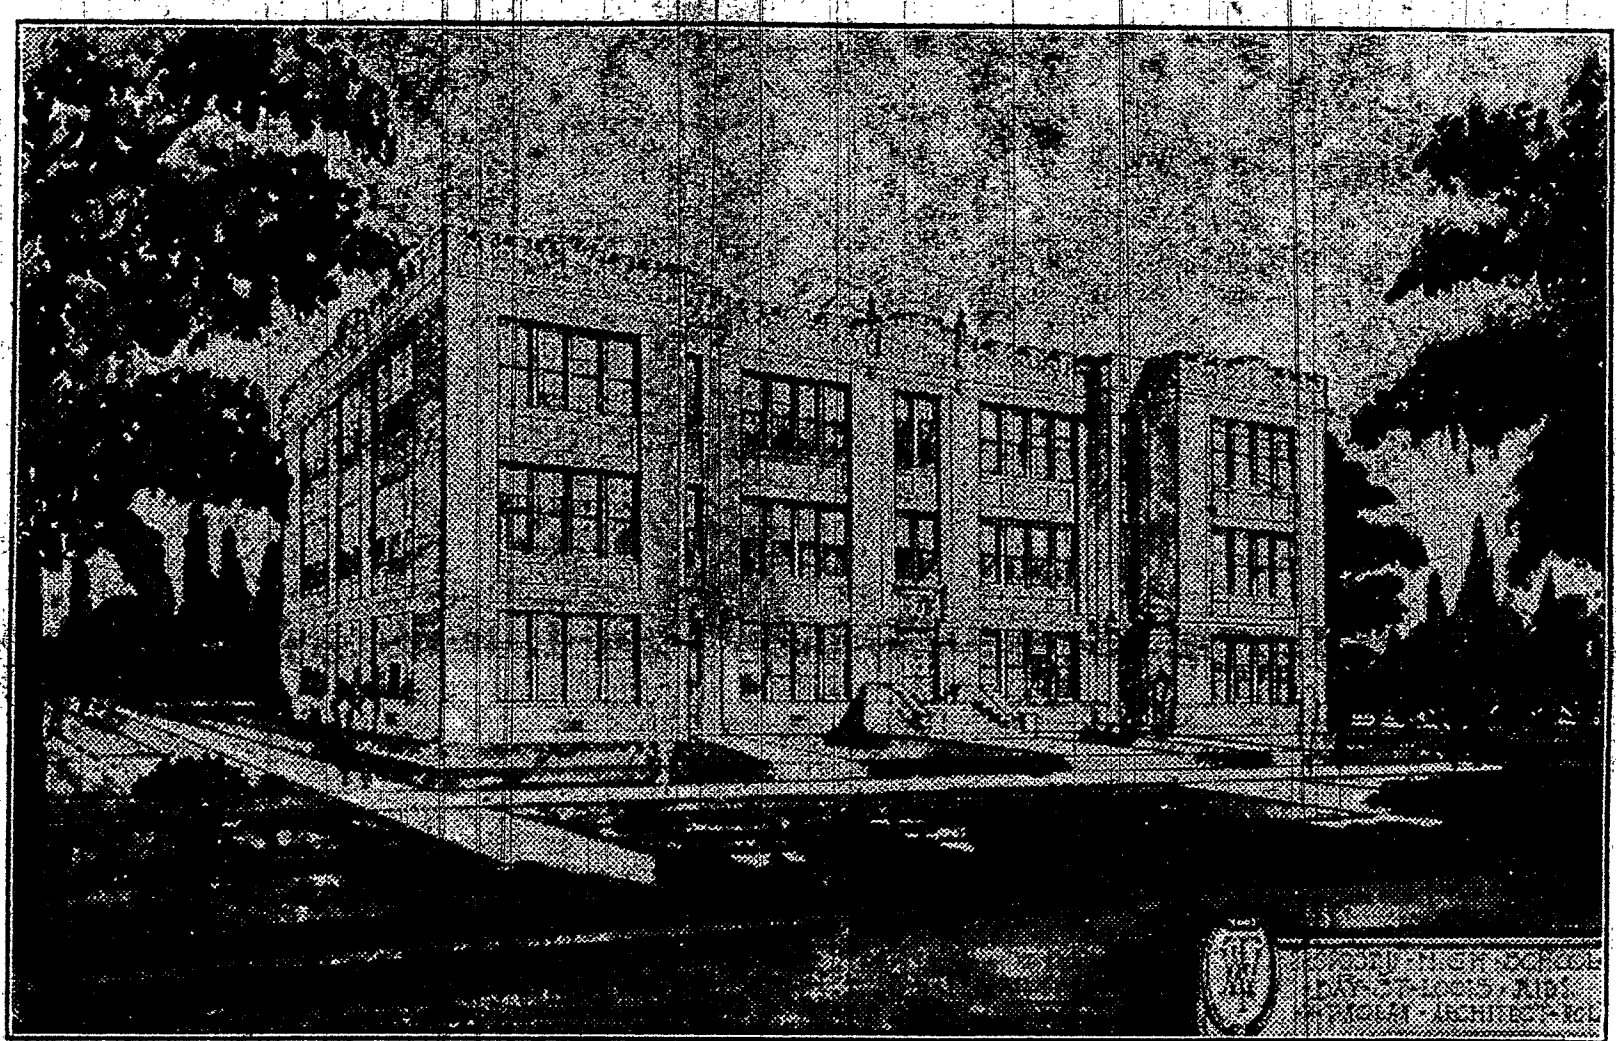

Unusual Program, Interspersed With Song, Delighted Select Audience—Pupils Gave Evidence of Careful and Thorough Training.

SEVERAL GOLD MEDALS AWARDED TO DILIGENT PUPILS.

First Year of Music Taught Proves Popular and Successful—Brother Louis and Brother Fabian Complimented on Success of School.

The closing exercises of St. Stanislaus Day School were held at the school building, yesterday morning, May 25th. A varied and interesting program of songs, speeches and contests in the different branches was carried out in excellent form by the pupils in the presence of a select audience of patrons and other friends of the school, among whom it was noted a number of leading men and women of Bay St. Louis, representing the different professions and other vocations in life. The program was unusual, and the departure from the long program of recitation by children who know nothing of elocution instructive talk, after which he presented the diplomas to the graduates of grammar school, the beloved pupils of Mrs. W. O. Sylvester. They were: Mathilda Ladner, who was given a prize for scholarship; Warren Traub, Lloyd Ladner, Marius Ziegler, Mary Benigno, Lillian Kimbrell, Elzie Toquet, Marie Adams, Jean Larreaux, Francis Morgan, Estelle Collier, Helen Chapman, who was also given a prize for scholarship.

The exercises were well attended by parents and visitors, who seemed to enjoy it very much and shared our joy of the closing of school.

The following pupils received prizes: attendance: Francis O'Neill, Jesse Coward and Katherine Erwin. Miss Olga von Droskowsky had an exceptional pupil, Norma Gex, who made 100 per cent on each of three examinations, and 99 1/2 per cent and 96 per cent on her five final examinations.

Louis Robert contributed the following poem to the school:

Life.
Contentment and sorrow,
Struggle and strife,
These are the elements
Which make up life.
Dream not of the shadows
Of the long and weary past,
But on future problems
Your great mind cast.
You are a sculptor,
Your brains are your tools;
If you are a fool,
Chisel your standards stately and fair,
And the great problems model with care.
Shed a smile,
Show your will,
Have good precedents
Upon which to build.
If you fail, do not stop,
Do not weep, sigh and mope;
But start to your task
With vigor and vim,
And with good hopes say,
"Here's where I begin."
Climb life's ladder step by step,
And never let hopelessness unsettle;
Keep your character from blamist and stain
And you will not have lived in vain.
Make your failures speak, address,
And you have found life's nobleness.

and of Canal Commercial routes. St. Stanislaus, noted the Canal Commercial bankers out of the game last Sunday 1-0. The game was a pitcher's duel all through, with Smith of the Canals getting the better of the contest, but an error and a few stolen bases proved his undoing.

Smith held the strong Rock-A-Chaws hitless until the eighth inning, aided by the phenomenal work of Marzano at the left position. Brinkelle hit a splendid ball for the Canals, showing that these boys are not all "mush" and "mope" as they are sometimes called. The most interesting part of the game was the last inning, when Smith, with one out, struck out Sullivan, Loewer, and Bonura, thus securing the victory for the Canals.

THE SPANISH TRAIL MUDDLE MAY BE COSTLY.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., May 24, 1923.

We are all aware of the permanency of a road south of the L. & N. R. R. between Waveland and Lake Shore is positively an impossibility. Such a road may stand four or five years, or even ten, but beyond that it becomes a mere guess. Consider the cost, and the number of marshes to be crossed. There is at the present time a part or short distance already built which is entirely too narrow, also too light for heavy traffic and out of the question for military purposes. As an example, the L. & N. Railroad has spent millions to build a storm-proof railroad. Up to this time they are still building and spending millions. Let us all regard this improvement void of jealousy in order to get a speedy completion of the job. There are several rumors going the rounds that does not seem to be very encouraging regarding the completion of the Trail. These are to the effect that the higher ups were contemplating a route which would isolate Bay St. Louis and Waveland entirely. One is the Texas Flat road part way and then straight to Napoleonville and another equally as bad. Route starting at the wide and well kept Pass Christian road, entering the Shell Beach golf links proper (this will be a ferry landing when completed), continuing through and crossing Jordan River place or in the vicinity of the Munton Farm and continuing with the partly opened road, continuing straight to Pearl River. This is an inland route, which once built will never wash out, and three miles or more shorter. It is usually the unloaded gun that kills. Owing to squabbles, the government refused to aid Arkansas in the building of her roads. Watch your step.

A SPECIAL TRAIN WAS EM. PROVED FOR "SKIN DEEP."

A special train with a new crew was employed by Thos. Ince Studios in filming the thrilling escape of the convict who is captured from the roof of the neighborhood "Skin Deep." A thrilling episode from the picture, "Skin Deep," was filmed at the Bay St. Louis, La. The train was made up of a locomotive, a passenger car, and a flat car. The train was driven by a crew of men, and the passengers were a group of men, including the convict who was being pursued.

was refreshing and welcome. The audience was saved from suspense and the tediousness generally prevailing. Instead there was, in addition to a charming musical program of song, a practical and entertaining demonstration of the work gone through the session just ended.

Bro. Louis, principal, and his collaborator, Bro. Fabian, have striven with success. This indeed is a reward worthy in itself. Bro. Louis reviewed the pupils in arithmetic, geography, catechism and other studies in a manner that showed there were no drones in the little beehive of study during the past session. It was remarkable how the little fellows were dressed and trained, showing the thoroughness with which they are schooled and not only with credit to themselves but to their instructors as well. The young orators distinguished themselves in the interpretation and delivery of the masterpieces of the language, and the singing, under the able management of the talented Misses Miriam and Olivia Engman, rivaled in artistic excellence the best ever heard in any school of its class. Rounds of applause greeted every number of the program.

It had long been the secret ambition of Bro. Louis to introduce the study of the rudiments of music and singing in the class room, but there seemed no time available until finally the services of Miss Olivia Engman (organ and piano) and her sister, Miss Miriam Engman (voice), were requisitioned; their time and talent without limit or price.

The delightful audience were then asked to bestow their praise and congratulations on the winners of the beautiful gold medals, donated by the kind and generous friends of the school.

city St. Louis was drawn for by Masters Orest Lanore, Robert Basford, Dalton Thibodeau and Lawrence Luc, and was won by Master Robert Basford.

After the distribution of medals and premiums candy and refreshments were served to the pupils—a pleasant ending to the school term, 1923.

IN THE INTEREST OF $360,000.00 CAMPAIGN FUND FOR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION.

Bay St. Louis Citizens of Episcopal Church Appointed in Interest of Cause—Fund For Endowment Purpose.

The Rev. Frederick W. Jones, of Holland, Miss., for one year for Bishop Bratton's $360,000 campaign for religious education, has been visiting Bay St. Louis recently in the interest of the movement. An endowment committee consisting of George H. Penn and Owen Crawford has been appointed. Mr. Penn and the Rev. Harry Perry went to Gulfport to hear the Bishop's address on the endowment campaign, returning with an earnest desire to see Bay St. Louis do its full share for the cause.

Teh Bishop pleaded for an opportunity to lay permanent foundations for his educational institutions in this State before his day should come to a close. He spoke also of the University of the South, mentioning such noted Seawane men as General Kirby Smith, General W. C. Forges, General Jervey, Major Archie Butt and Captain John B. Elliott. President Roosevelt called it the most remarkable university in the United States. The campaign will result in Mississippi's payment of a long-standing debt to Seawane.

All Saints College for girls, at Vicksburg, will chiefly profit by the movement to the extent of $200,000; Okolofa Industrial School, $100,000; Vicksburg Industrial School, $50,000. The Bishop said that his interest in negro education was due to the conviction that Jesus Christ, if he were here today, would wish to serve the black man just as much as the white man.

The canvas will begin on June 1 in Bay St. Louis.

MEMORIAL DAY IN BAY ST. LOUIS.

Next Wednesday, May 30th, To Be Observed—Public Asked For Flowers—Send to Mrs. Gager or To Be Called For.

Memorial Day, Wednesday, May 30, in Bay St. Louis, will be fittingly observed by Post 130, by decorating the graves of ex-service men in this county, under the direction of Comrade Gager, and volunteers of the Post. Different cemeteries will be visited and wreaths, flags and flowers will be placed on the graves of these boys. Those who wish to remember the men and have flowers to send will phone 155. Those who wish to honor our fallen heroes and have flowers to decorate the graves of these boys can leave same at 326 Carroll avenue, or phone 155, and they will be called for on the morning of the 30th or the evening of the 29th.

BARBECUE AND BASKET PICNIC FOR NEXT MONTH.

Woodmen of Napoleon Camp To Entertain at Open Air Event June 16. Candidates For Governor Invited to Address Crowd.

The good people of Napoleon and vicinity will entertain the people of the county and others from away at a barbecue and basket picnic on June 16th. The affair will be under the auspices of Napoleon Camp No. 349, Woodmen of the World. Everybody is invited and a big time is expected. A jazz band from Bay St. Louis will be in attendance.

Messrs. Conner, Whitfield, Bell, Bilbo and Franklin, candidates for governor, have been invited to speak. Candidates for other offices have also been invited to speak. The invitation is general. The management says, "Bring a full basket."

At night there will be a dance, to which a charge of 50 cents for gentlemen and 25 cents for ladies will prevail.

ALPHONSE FAYARD FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

Alphonse Fayard, of Bay St. Louis, is announced in this issue of The Echo as a candidate for county treasurer. Mr. Fayard resides in the Cedar Point vicinity of the city and is well known not only in that section but over Bay St. Louis and Hancock county.

He is a man of sterling personal qualities and his integrity not to be questioned, and if elected will fittingly fill the trust. He is well known and generally esteemed. He has entered upon the campaign to win and as time will permit, is making a round of the voters in the interest of his candidacy.

The voters of the county are respectfully asked to give his candidacy their careful and favorable consideration.

DELIGHTFUL HOUSE PARTY.

A delightful house party for the week-end was entertained at Idlewild Inn, Waveland, composed of Miss Justine Barrie, Miss Myrtle Mahone, Miss Minerva Chapman, Miss Alving Wilhelm, Miss Clorain Miller and Mrs. W. E. Jacobs. The party returned to New Orleans Monday morning, unanimous in the expression that the Mississippi Coast is the one and only place where the pleasure is in abundance for the seeking. Idlewild Inn is conducted by Mrs. Charles C. Brown, who was ever solicitous for the comfort of the party.

With the local millage campaign spending millions of dollars for local improvements, the county is at a half million for roads and bridges and the city possibly $100,000 for new school building and other improvements on programs, there ought to be big business and prosperity for our people in the immediate future.

HANCOCK COUNTY BANK TO HAVE STOCK INCREASE

Local Bank at Meeting of Stockholders Wednesday Night Decides to Increase Capital Stock From $50,000.00 to $240,000.00.

BIG BUSINESS MAKES INCREASE IMPERATIVE.

Additional Stock, Following Amendment of Charter, To Be Placed on Market—Par Value $40.00—Demand Is Active For New Stock.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Hancock County Bank, of Bay St. Louis, held in this city at the banking house Wednesday night, it was voted to amend the charter of the bank and to increase the capital stock from $50,000.00 to $240,000.00, nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

In order to take care of the increasing business of the bank and the constant augmentation of deposits, it was found imperative to increase the bank's working capital. In fact, the move has been in contemplation for some time. Business of the bank has increased at such rapid rate, however, that the matter could be deferred no longer.

Resources of the Hancock County Bank now total over a million and a half dollars and before the year is out, officials say, the two million-dollar mark will have been reached. In five years, officials further say, the total will be over four million.

Following amendment of the charter stock will be placed on the market, the par value of which will be $40.00. There is quite a demand for the stock, and there will be no trouble to dispose of as much as the bank will wish to issue, for it is understood only a part will be sold, for the present. Later, however, as business demands and conditions warrant, additional shares will be placed on the market.

With a capital stock of $240,000 and resources totaling in the millions, gives Bay St. Louis one of the largest banks in the State, and it is quite a feather in the cap of the city and county. It is an evidence of the progressiveness and success of the bank and speaks well for our people and community.

The Echo has ever and unflinchingly dwelt on the growth of both city and county and it is gratifying to note such substantial growth as evidenced above.

H. S. Weston is president, E. J. Leonard vice president and Leo W. Seal cashier of the Hancock County Bank.

The official publication of the proposed amendment to the charter of the bank appears in another column of this issue of The Echo.

ALL-STAR LOSE THEIR FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON.

Defeated by the H. M. S. Team of Biloxi—Score 1-0.

In the fastest and best played game of the season, the All Stars lost their first game Sunday to the Holy Name Society, of Biloxi, by the score of 1 to 0. The game was nip and tuck from start to finish. Biloxi scored its run in the sixth inning when a wild throw by the first baseman Marion to get safe; the second on a passed ball. For the next man up, hit for a single. Marion scored. No man reached first on Collier until the sixth inning. He allowed but three scattered hits. Gager did splendid work behind the bat. Egloff carried a feather in the cap of the All Stars, a double and a single, out of four trips to the plate. Blaise and Seube did great fielding, while Marion for Biloxi did stellar work, both at bat and in the field.

Any sixty-three inch team desiring games write to Captain G. Y. Blaise. Score by innings: 000 000 000—0 H. N. S. 000 001 000—1

GAZE ON THE PICTURE WITH PRIDE.

The Echo is privileged to publish this week a picture of the proposed new Central School building for Bay St. Louis, which is planned to erect and equip by the city at an approximate cost of $100,000.

The picture of the handsome building adorns the front page of this paper. In reality the building will stand for more than ornament to the town. It will not only stand for all the elements of education, proclaim and to a better and greater civilization, but will endure as a lasting monument to the constructive and better side of the community and its people of today; an attestation to the civic pride and as earnest of serious thought for our children.

It is hard to conceive that anyone would consistently oppose this magnificent improvement and all the attending influences it will stand for.

It is hard to conceive that anyone will, with soul so sordid and thought so materialistic, weigh the matter in dollars and cents. It can't be done. Further, has it not already been said that the amount spread over a period of twenty-five years would mean an annual addition of only $4,000 per annum plus interest? Are not the children of the city entitled to at least so much or rather to so little? In fact, there is so much in favor of the proposition and the principles involved that one hardly knows on what point to dwell. The benefits of the proposition are so evident that appears—useless to expound or dilate upon them. What would the outside world say?

We have heard of no serious opposition to the proposition. But if any exist it surely cannot be aimed at the cause of education, more and better schools.

WINTER IN MAY.

From all sections of the country reports continue to come in regarding the extent of the severe touch of winter weather which recently swept over the north, east and west. These reports are as varied as they are numerous. In fact, no one seems fully able to determine as yet just how serious the chill is going to prove before crops are approaching the ripening period.

Insofar as Bay St. Louis and surrounding territory are concerned we believe everything will come out all right, though of course any serious setback in any other part of the country is bound to be felt here in an indirect way. If crops, either fruit, cotton or grain, are damaged to the point where it will mean a little stiffer price toward the harvest time, it isn't going to hurt anybody. On the contrary it will really be a blessing, because the country cannot hope to continue along prosperous lines if one great part of it—the agricultural and stock-raising part—isn't prospering, too. The rural sections must prosper with the towns and cities if good times continue for any great period. And government reports will bear us out in our statement that at this time the rural communities are not sharing as fully in prosperity as are the manufacturing industries of the country.

So who knows but, after all, the recent spell of winter weather which swept across the continent may not prove a blessing instead of a calamity? The law of averages—and old Mother Nature—work in a peculiar way to gain their ends.

A DOCTOR FAMINE AND NOVEL ARRANGEMENT.

Doctors, like all other people, go where their rewards are greatest. And as a result of this there comes a statement from Chicago, to the effect that many physicians are quitting the rural districts for the larger towns and cities, where their hours are not as exacting and where, they claim, they can get more money for their services.

Not long ago a Missouri town with a population of 250 tried a novel stunt. Citizens of the town and country adjoining it held a meeting and each pledged himself to pay the sum of $15 a year into a general fund which was turned over to the sole physician remaining in the town. In return the doctor treats free of further cost all cases in the families of those who subscribed to the fund. What ever he may get from those who did not subscribe goes into his own pocket. And for this sum he agrees to treat free of charge those who are not financially able to pledge the sum of $15 yearly.

As a result of this plan the town and community has a good doctor, and the doctor has a guarantee that he is going to make at least $3,000 a year. He is satisfied, and so are his patients. For, after all, $15 is a mighty small sum to cover any one family's doctor bills for an entire year.

Let the other fellow talk occasionally—you can't learn much from yourself. Exchange.

A USEFUL CITIZEN RECOGNIZED AND HONORED.

The lady had called at the newspaper office with a special letter for next day's paper. It was after office hours, as far as the public is concerned. For it must be remembered there are really no "office hours" for the newspaper man. He is ever on the job. Ever thinking, ever solicitous of the interests he represents. The lady was attracted by the profusion of beautiful flowers. There were designs and bouquets on every side. The office was literally flanked by the fragrant blossoms. She expressed great admiration and wondered why so many and from where they came. But the newspaper man is modest. He works for the love of the toil and in the interest of the community served. He agreed they were of unusual beauty and accepting the news item said nothing further.

He did not tell her only that afternoon a delegation of Gulfport's leading citizens, representing the business, civic and social interests of the place and vicinity, had been there only a short while previously. He did not tell her these ladies and gentlemen had come with tribute of flowers and praise for his inestimable value as a newspaper man to the community. Neither did he say he had been presented as a substantial token by these good people with a handsome watch and chain appropriately engraved.

Such a scene took place last Friday afternoon in the office of the Gulfport Herald and the deserving recipient was A. G. Osinach, editor for the past twenty-three years. The tribute came as a complete surprise. Of course, it was totally unexpected. And there was no occasion other than that people made it so. They wished to show by some outward sign and with enduring souvenir their appreciation of this tireless worker for the public good. But it is certain nothing will endure more in the mind and heart of the recipient than the words of presentation which carried the present and the feeling of esteem and appreciation which must have prompted the gift.

Mr. Osinach has served the people of Gulfport as editor of the town paper, in that manner which only the successful newspaper worker can serve. That is with a spirit of unselfishness and lofty purpose. No project for the town has ever been proposed but the editor of the Herald was ready to serve and boost, and it must be said that in a great measure much of Gulfport's success has been traced to the encouragement given by the local press. There has been no knocking, no attacking of individuals and fighting measures. No carping criticism. The policy of the Gulfport editor has been to boost and build; to construct and conserve. How well he has succeeded is best attested to by the foregoing.

MOTHERS AND FATHERS, THE DROWNING SEASON!

While everyone is being warned to be careful of autos and Bay St. Louis parents have dinned it into the heads of their offspring to watch closely along street crossings or roads, and not forgetting the railroad crossing on the beach front, it is also a good time to call attention to another danger zone to confront youth—not only here on the Coast, but elsewhere and wherever there is water.

That is the drowning season. Already one case has been reported this season—three Michigan boys losing their lives while playing in a canoe. Parents should encourage their children to learn to swim, for one never knows when such knowledge will prevent loss of life. But at the same time impress upon your boy that no matter how expert he may be in the water, there is always a chance of drowning. It is safest to always be sure of the depth of water and to have knowledge of its currents before venturing into it. Boys should never play in water of considerable depth when there are no grown persons near. Keep on warning the children of auto dangers—but include a few warnings, too, against being reckless during the drowning season.

IT DOESN'T COST A CENT.

Take with you who needs you. Smile on him who turns you. Laugh at him who turns you. And you will find you are not alone.

Do you know the man who says, "I am not alone, I am not alone, I am not alone." He is not alone, he is not alone, he is not alone.

HENRY FORD FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Senator Pat Harrison, who is one of the keenest political observers in America, is quoted as saying that Henry Ford has more than an even chance to secure the Democratic nomination for president next year.

More than this, Senator Harrison is convinced that Ford could be elected—that he could sweep the South, and that he would make serious inroads on the rock-ribbed Republican States of the North and East.

The Mississippi Senator was a recent visitor to Detroit. He had a long talk with Ford, and there is grave suspicion that the conversation touched on things other than divers. "Ford talked about most everything except his presidential aspirations," according to Senator Harrison. "If he intends to become a candidate, he is keeping it to himself."

Ford is now admittedly the world's richest man, and he has used his wealth in such a way that it would not detract from his popularity before the people. He is a confirmed pacifist, believes in the World Court and the League of Nations, but possesses few of the elements of the politician. His only excursion into politics thus far was his race against Truman H. Newberry for United States Senator from Michigan, and the people of America are familiar with the incidents growing out of that memorable contest.

The nomination and election of Henry Ford would mark a novel turn in American politics. Yet it might prove a good thing for the country. He is not a statesman. The fundamentals of government have had little place in his mind, and his idea of diplomacy is fittingly illustrated by his foolish attempt to pacify the warring nations of Europe by fitting out a ship and sending a number of preachers and peacemakers across the seas.

But there is no denying the fact that he is a successful business man, and the man who makes a success of his own business may usually be trusted with the business of others. Nobody doubts that Ford is honest, that he is courageous, and that he would do his level best to render faithful and efficient public service.

THE BAY ST. LOUIS POSTOFFICE.

No, this is not about the Bay St. Louis postmaster. We do not know who is going to be the next postmaster. Nor does anyone else. But we do know there are two big waste baskets in the lobby of the office. Big fellows; made of wrought wire; with great capacity. Did you, dear reader of The Echo, ever pause long enough to take a squint at these waste baskets, or the floor shortly after a number of people have received their mail? If you have, you were probably struck by the number of circulars and form letters and hand-bills that littered it up. In fact, you were doubtless struck with the fact that many of them had been thrown into the basket as soon as they were removed from the envelope, the recipient never even taking the trouble to give them a second glance. Some are not even opened. But did you also notice that you don't see any throwing newspapers, and especially the home-town newspaper, in the waste basket or on the floor? Did you notice that newspapers are always carried away right instead of tossed away? Well, right there is a mighty good argument in favor of advertising in the newspaper.

The circular letter—a costly form of advertising—goes into the waste basket. The home-town paper goes into the home. Remember this, and spend your advertising money accordingly.

DRINKS BOOZE—LOSES—EYE-SIGHT.

British Sailor Consumes Quart of Gulfport Shiny and Goes Blind.

Totally blind, for the present and perhaps for the rest of his life, is John Ridge, mate of the British steamship Competitor, who, with several sailor companions, absorbed a large quantity of "shiny" bought in the "Quarters." Monday night, suffered hemorrhage of the retina from the distension of the blood vessels by the excessive quantity of alcohol taken into his system. Ridge, who is said to have "killed" a quart of the white liquor at one sitting, is in the King's Daughters' Hospital under treatment by Dr. Heard H. West, who says that the present condition of the patient is such that he cannot tell whether his blindness will be temporary or permanent.

That Ridge's calamity was not caused by word alcohol poisoning is the opinion of Dr. West, who says that the other members of the ship's party, all of whom drank the same brand of liquor, but in lesser quantities, have recovered from the effects of their jamboree.

The Competitor delayed its sailing, which was set for 6 o'clock this morning, until a report on Ridge's condition was obtained. She was still in port at noon today.

Chief of Police Calvin W. Boyd, upon receipt of the report of Ridge's illness, began systematic search for the source of the sailors' supply of liquor, and is still working upon the case.—Gulfport Herald.

FULLER BULL LOCAL COMMENT.

Some of the things that have been said about the "Bulls" in the school line, an' we gotta say it cert' looks like we tryin' to tell the wicked world that 'we been snorin' these many moons. It's a slam on the town an' the guys whate been runnin' her these ages past. Say we NEED the big thing in the school line, but don't say that people had a deep sigh an' lug the kids off SIMPLY 'cause they couldn't be hepped to the book stuff.

The cast of "Skin Deep" includes such well known stars as Milton Sills, Florence Vidor, Marcia Mamon and Frank Centurion in the thrilling picture "Skin Deep" Thursday, the 31st, at A. & C. Theatre.

Mrs. M. H. Briggs, after an absence of six weeks, returned home during the early part of the week, following a visit to the home of her son at Pharr, Texas, and other points, including side trips over the Mexican border line.

C. M. Morgan, president Mississippi Railroad Commission, came down from his home in Hattiesburg Thursday and spent the afternoon meeting Bay St. Louis and other voters in Hancock County. Mr. Morgan is no stranger in Bay St. Louis and his visit was an occasion of satisfaction to many.

Miss Hermie Perkins returned home Thursday morning from Gainesville, Ga., where she attended Brunau College, after a most successful season in basketball, and her home is warmly welcomed. Justly popular with all who know her, her return home will prove an acquisition and more particularly to the younger social set.

Everybody ought to pull and help make Bay St. Louis a bigger educational center. This is an asset of inestimable value to any community. It will help to bring people and keep them here. A large proportion of people live in certain communities in order to better educate their children. It is being done here and the work can be expanded and assist the cause.

Charles J. Fay, traffic manager at New Orleans for the Southern Pacific Railroad, has purchased the H. A. Ferrand property on the beach front and will occupy it as a summer home with his family. The sale was made by Harry Engelmann, realtor, 415 Carondelet street, New Orleans. The advertised price for the property was $9,000.00.

The Echo has been requested to announce there will be a "5000" game of cards at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club on the afternoon of Thursday, June 7th, from 2 to 5 o'clock, given by Misses Leone Gilbert, Marguerite Blaize, Vivian Blaize, Junior girls St. Joseph Academy, for the benefit of the wharf building fund of the school. An admission charge of 15 cents will prevail. It is cordially invited to participate and assist the cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, of Gulfport, arrived during the week and are making their home with their relative, Mrs. L. M. Gex, and family. Mr. Prague is a well known manager for the Hardey Ice Cream Company at Gulfport and will remain here until future business plans mature. Mr. Prague is a splendid and progressive young business man and the hope is indulged in that he may locate here. Any progressive community would welcome such a "live wire."

Prof. Leon McCluer, his assistant, Miss Pearson, and the entire corps of Central School and Webb and Taylor Schools were recently reappointed for the 1923-24 school term. A deserved compliment to the ability and success of the teachers. G. W. Brown, principal of the Vilela C. Jones High School, was also reappointed for next year's work. The school term came to a close yesterday afternoon, after a successful session. There were 12 graduates, the 12th grade being added to the Central School this year.

Mrs. Armstrong and daughter, Miss Louise Armstrong, and their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, will leave about the 1st for New Orleans where they will reside in future. Mrs. Armstrong is taking a position with the Postal Telegraph Company in the resident manager's office. Miss Armstrong has been connected with the Merchants Bank in this city a number of years and will be regretted in business circles as well as in social circles. The change, however, is made due to the fact the family will in future reside in New Orleans.

After an illness of long duration, Mrs. Carmella Loinaca, aged 74 years, passed away Tuesday, May 22, 1923, at 4 o'clock, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Sells, in Railroad avenue. A devout member of the Catholic faith all her life, the funeral took place Thursday afternoon from the residence of her son-in-law and the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf. Rev. Father Gmelch officiating. Interment in the family tomb in St. Mary's Cemetery. Mrs. Loinaca was also the mother of A. Loinaca, merchant, residing corner Main and Second streets. A resident of Bay St. Louis for a number of years, she was well known and generally respected. The family have the sympathy of many friends.

BEAUTIFUL BRIDGE AFTERNOON.

Mrs. L. W. SEAL.

Introduces Mrs. Roland Weston, of Logtown, Recent Bride of Seattle, Washington.

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club frequently the scene of many delightful and handsome parties, was again on Tuesday afternoon the setting for another beautiful and charming affair to which Mrs. Leo W. Seal was hostess. The affair was in compliment to Mrs. Roland Weston of Logtown, Miss., whose recent wedding at Seattle, Washington, was one of the fashionable social events of that city this season.

There were ten tables of bridge and from 2 to 5 by the clock the fascinating of the intricate game held full sway. The time seemed all too fleeting. For the occasion the clubhouse was effectively decorated, serving as a center piece was a large vessel of Bermuda lilies, set in profusion with maiden hair fern.

Cravat trophies were captured by Miss Ethel Gex, Mrs. Ernest J. Leonard and Mrs. Carl Marshall, in the order named.

Among those present the following were noted: Mrs. Gordon Boswell, Mrs. T. J. West, Mrs. Geo. C. McDonald, Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Mrs. Will T. McDonald, Mrs. E. H. Borden, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Harold Weston, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. Curtis L. Waller, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, Mrs. Owen Cravat, Mrs. Roland Weston, Mrs. Power, Mrs. W. W. Forward, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. R. L. Genin, Mrs. Carl Marshall, Mrs. E. G. Abrahams, Mrs. John Weston, Mrs. J. N. Wisner, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mrs. Val Dell, Mrs. R. de Montuzin, Mrs. W. J. Harrison, Mrs. A. P. Smith, Mrs. E. W. Drackoff, Mrs. Nas. G. Moreau, Misses Ethel Gex, Margaret Green, Rita Breath, Evelyn Lacoste, Vicki Gex, Ethel Otis, Elsa and Hilda Spori, Lillith Ansley, Emma Edwards and others.

A feature of the afternoon was the singing of two numbers, the second an encore, by Miss E. Lacoste, whose exquisite voice was heard to advantage. Mrs. Winfield Partridge, accompanist.

BRIDGE AFTERNOON BY MRS. (DR.) A. P. SMITH.

Large Affair at Smith Home on the Beach Front in Compliment to Visitor From St. Louis.

Mrs. (Dr.) Alvah V. Smith, another delightful hostess whose functions are always among the more prominent and successful ones of the city, was hostess to an afternoon at bridge Wednesday in compliment to Mrs. Davis, of St. Louis, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Power for the past several weeks.

The attractive home on the beach front was decorated in that manner which denoted great taste and charm. The reception room, music room and dining room were thrown into one and on every side bunches of cut flowers gave additional color and expression.

Trophies worth striving for were awarded to the more successful contestants, in the order named: Miss Elsa Spori, Mrs. E. H. Borden, Mrs. E. G. Abrahams. Among those present were Mrs. T. J. West, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mrs. C. L. Waller, Mrs. J. J. Bouslog, Mrs. Valentine Dell, Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. Leo W. Seal, Mrs. M. H. Briggs, Mrs. Jack Francis, Mrs. D. M. Power, Mrs. G. R. Davis, Mrs. R. L. Genin, Mrs. E. Lacoste, Mrs. E. G. Abrahams, Mrs. R. de Montuzin, Mrs. Gordon Boswell, Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Mrs. Will T. McDonald, Mrs. E. H. Borden, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. Geo. R. Rea, Mrs. Chas. C. McDonald, Mrs. Margaret Green, Rita Breath, Misses Gex, Alice Chapman, Aline Ransen, Evelyn Lacoste, Elsa and Hilda Spori, Emma Edwards, Miss V. Gex and others.

Mrs. Winfield Partridge, whose series of bridge parties from week to week have proven a source of delight, was hostess Monday morning to a three-table party, serving luncheon at noon. The successful contestants were Mrs. Harrison Crawford, Mrs. A. F. Delbert and Mrs. E. H. Borden.

One of the larger and delightful of night parties was the bridge given Wednesday eve at the handsome beach home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leonard. The unusually handsome prizes were captured by Mrs. (Dr.) A. P. Smith and Mr. John Edwards and Mrs. W. J. Harrison and Mr. Val Dell.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green and family have taken possession of their attractive home on the beach front, recently completed and a thorough remodeling and renovation, all arranged and acquisition to the "City Beautiful." They are "at home" to their friends.

Seal was hostess. The affair was in compliment to Mrs. Roland Weston of Logtown, Miss., whose recent wedding at Seattle, Washington, was one of the fashionable social events of that city this season.

There were ten tables of bridge and from 2 to 5 by the clock the fascinating of the intricate game held full sway. The time seemed all too fleeting. For the occasion the clubhouse was effectively decorated, serving as a center piece was a large vessel of Bermuda lilies, set in profusion with maiden hair fern.

Cravat trophies were captured by Miss Ethel Gex, Mrs. Ernest J. Leonard and Mrs. Carl Marshall, in the order named.

Among those present the following were noted: Mrs. Gordon Boswell, Mrs. T. J. West, Mrs. Geo. C. McDonald, Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Mrs. Will T. McDonald, Mrs. E. H. Borden, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Harold Weston, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. Curtis L. Waller, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, Mrs. Owen Cravat, Mrs. Roland Weston, Mrs. Power, Mrs. W. W. Forward, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. R. L. Genin, Mrs. Carl Marshall, Mrs. E. G. Abrahams, Mrs. John Weston, Mrs. J. N. Wisner, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mrs. Val Dell, Mrs. R. de Montuzin, Mrs. W. J. Harrison, Mrs. A. P. Smith, Mrs. E. W. Drackoff, Mrs. Nas. G. Moreau, Misses Ethel Gex, Margaret Green, Rita Breath, Evelyn Lacoste, Vicki Gex, Ethel Otis, Elsa and Hilda Spori, Lillith Ansley, Emma Edwards and others.

A feature of the afternoon was the singing of two numbers, the second an encore, by Miss E. Lacoste, whose exquisite voice was heard to advantage. Mrs. Winfield Partridge, accompanist.

BRIDGE AFTERNOON BY MRS. (DR.) A. P. SMITH.

Large Affair at Smith Home on the Beach Front in Compliment to Visitor From St. Louis.

Mrs. (Dr.) Alvah V. Smith, another delightful hostess whose functions are always among the more prominent and successful ones of the city, was hostess to an afternoon at bridge Wednesday in compliment to Mrs. Davis, of St. Louis, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Power for the past several weeks.

The attractive home on the beach front was decorated in that manner which denoted great taste and charm. The reception room, music room and dining room were thrown into one and on every side bunches of cut flowers gave additional color and expression.

Trophies worth striving for were awarded to the more successful contestants, in the order named: Miss Elsa Spori, Mrs. E. H. Borden, Mrs. E. G. Abrahams. Among those present were Mrs. T. J. West, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Mrs. C. L. Waller, Mrs. J. J. Bouslog, Mrs. Valentine Dell, Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. Leo W. Seal, Mrs. M. H. Briggs, Mrs. Jack Francis, Mrs. D. M. Power, Mrs. G. R. Davis, Mrs. R. L. Genin, Mrs. E. Lacoste, Mrs. E. G. Abrahams, Mrs. R. de Montuzin, Mrs. Gordon Boswell, Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Mrs. Will T. McDonald, Mrs. E. H. Borden, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Mrs. Geo. R. Rea, Mrs. Chas. C. McDonald, Mrs. Margaret Green, Rita Breath, Misses Gex, Alice Chapman, Aline Ransen, Evelyn Lacoste, Elsa and Hilda Spori, Emma Edwards, Miss V. Gex and others.

Mrs. Winfield Partridge, whose series of bridge parties from week to week have proven a source of delight, was hostess Monday morning to a three-table party, serving luncheon at noon. The successful contestants were Mrs. Harrison Crawford, Mrs. A. F. Delbert and Mrs. E. H. Borden.

One of the larger and delightful of night parties was the bridge given Wednesday eve at the handsome beach home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leonard. The unusually handsome prizes were captured by Mrs. (Dr.) A. P. Smith and Mr. John Edwards and Mrs. W. J. Harrison and Mr. Val Dell.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green and family have taken possession of their attractive home on the beach front, recently completed and a thorough remodeling and renovation, all arranged and acquisition to the "City Beautiful." They are "at home" to their friends.
